"I love the sweet and smoky flavor of red bell peppers - they add complexity to any dish. Roasting them is my favorite way to enjoy them. I also love how versatile they are in different cuisines."

"Unfortunately, I can't enjoy red bell peppers because I'm allergic to them. It's a shame, because I know they're a popular vegetable and are used in so many different types of cuisine. But for me, eating red bell peppers would mean risking an allergic reaction, so I have to avoid them altogether."
